Keynote Speaker

Dr Ric Charlesworth, AM

Dr Ric Charlesworth is a Doctor of Medicine and former captain of the Australian Hockey Team, the WA State Hockey Team and the WA State Cricket Team. After 10 years in Federal Parliament, Charlesworth retired to take up the position of National Coach of the Australian Women's Hockey Team from 1993 to 2000. During his reign, the highly successful team won gold medals at the 1996 Atlanta Olympic Games, 1998 Commonwealth Games in Kuala Lumpur and Sydney 2000 Olympics Games.

As an athlete, Charlesworth was selected to represent Australia in five Olympic hockey teams; 1972, 1976, 1980 (captain - Moscow Olympics were boycotted), 1984 (captain), and 1988, winning silver at the 1976, Montreal Olympic Games.

In October 2005, Charlesworth moved to New Zealand to work as a High Performance Manager for New Zealand Cricket, while two years later he worked as Technical Advisor to Indian Hockey before being appointed coach of the Australian's National Men's Hockey team, the Kookaburras.

During his time with the Kookaburras Charlesworth coached the team to multiple gold medals, with highlights including gold medal winning performances in four Champions Trophies (2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012), the 2010 and 2014 Hockey World Cups and the 2010 Commonwealth Games in New Delhi.

In March 2014, Charlesworth stepped down from his role with the Kookaburras and has worked as a high performance consultant to the Fremantle Dockers AFL Club and as a coach mentor to the Australian Institute of Sport.
